(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. Giving thanks is our topic because it is such a widely celebrated time period and of course one of the things that I want to bring forth first and foremost would be thanks to Creation or the Creator for the lovely experience of all of existence. Just to really deeply appreciate and give thanks for that.

Of course counting all of your blessings is very important and to reinforce them and ask for even more blessings because you really can't have too many of those.

I would also say let's give thanks to the indigenous people, all around the planet. Kind of going back through ancestry and appreciating the roots of physical existence here on Mother Earth, and then of course Mother Earth herself for the bounty that she provides.

Last and certainly not least, thank yourself for all the good that you have done and will do in this world.

As always, thank you and my love to you.

Djwhal Khul
