(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. We are going to begin with an energy field of prosperity: wearing the energy field of prosperity. Now sometimes I call this the money aura; sometimes it's also the energy field that will promote harmony and balance.

So bring a beautiful emerald green color into the energy field and just wear, if you will, if you were to put on a beautiful garment and the garment meant prosperity: prosperity, money, wealth.

We are on the other side of that Harvest Moon and we are moving towards the next new, Full Moon rather. Well, the new Moon is important too but the Full Moon is the halfway marker from the Wesak Moon. So this is a very important time.

It's kind of that half-way review, if you will, of what is your prosperity level. What is your gratitude level and they are directly interconnected. And then to focus on just the beautiful emerald green surrounding you, like a large egg shape. So if you stretch your arms out as far as you can to the sides, you would be having just about another inch beyond that of the beautiful emerald green color. Then it goes beneath the feet into the earth a bit and then it goes up above the head for a kind of pointed top of the egg, about two arm lengths above. So that is the specific shape.

It is almost a candle flame shape as well. So wear the emerald green, bask in the prosperity and then make specific statements of gratitude.

"I am grateful that I have this telephone."

"I am grateful that I have this computer."

"I am grateful that I have a bird singing outside this window."

"I am grateful that I can see a tree."

Any little bit of gratitude while you are wearing the emerald green prosperity or money aura will bring richness into that energy field and will allow it to create. In other words, some swirling starts to happen inside the energy field and that momentum or that creative energy is what makes more and more like energies.

Just keep the flow going there and if you want to, you can move your hands around like you are polishing, going in circles and polishing, or you can fluff, kind of a scoop and fluff, and bounce the energy field. Generally you can begin to also feel this inside the body. You might get a little bit of excitement in the solar plexus or maybe just a little bit more energized feeling.

Let's also invoke the 4th Ray which is a green color of Harmony through Unity and allow that color to add to the prosperity emerald green. So we are really working with 2 different shades of green now, melding them together. Good. Alright.

This is just our little Spirituality Article which is often more of a spiritual exercise and some bits of information which you can use for years to come and share freely with others please. All right this is Djwhal Khul. This has been your Spirituality Article for the week.

As always, thank you and my love to you.
