And here is Djwhal Khul's latest Spirituality Article, information complimentary every Thursday:

(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright then. We are going to begin with a beautiful blue flower seeing it in the 3rd eye center please. Beautiful blue flower. And that blue flower is a point of accomplishment or a marker that signifies one with an expanded awareness in the 3rd eye chakra. It also is one of the visible ways that we [Ascended Masters] identify lightworkers. And we see a number of things such as generator crystals in the chest or heart chakra, certain kinds of white light around the crown chakra, sometimes healing symbols in the palms of the hands, that sort of thing. So there are ways in which we can look at your energy field and see your progress spiritually and your orientation in world service.

Now the planetary consciousness is a bit precarious right now and the conscious of humanity is also a bit precarious. More war is brewing. There are possibilities of nuclear and chemical warfare. There is about to be new leadership and it is common to test new leadership, just like you would test the new substitute teacher or the new babysitter. These are common patterns.

So what we want to do with the blue flower in the 3rd eye is just recall it several times per day.

Just imagine it or maybe reach up and sort of draw a little flower, maybe something that looks like a daisy shape or whatever suits your personality. So that blue flower in the 3rd eye is just calling to awareness the balance of service on the planet. And that includes an outreach.

If there is a nuclear war in one section, it will create an imbalance in another. So it is one way of keeping balance which is quite needed at the moment. As we head to the common holidays, Christmas, Hanukkah and Kwanzaa, all those grouped towards the end of the year including the winter solstice, we generally have momentous things at that time. And I did create a forecast report for those.

We are also doing a special call on the winter solstice and one the week before that and that would be the quarterly forecast for the beginning of 2009. And that is I believe posted already on the website for those who want more information, if not it will be there soon.

The upcoming year, 2009, is very very potent with a lot of eclipses, an extra Mercury retrograde, and an Inauguration. There is good news for the Age of Aquarius and those with a lot of Aquarius influence with the Jupiter expansion. But also keep in mind that most of humanity resists change, transformation and expansion, they are more comfortable with keeping things familiar. So I expect quite a bit of discordance as well.

So keep checking that blue flower in the 3rd eye and then I will work with you on the inner planes to explain more in depth what that flower specifically symbolizes. That would be the inner planes teaching during your dream state, or meditation state or other states of openness.

Alright dear ones. Thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
