(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. We are going to work a little bit with the influence of meteor showers. Not just something kind of, you know, fun to watch in the sky and wish upon a falling star, but deeper into its potential in relationship to spiritual awareness.

Raining, lights raining at night essentially, has long been thought to be some sort of large cosmic message or shooting stars and falling stars to bring luck or make wishes come true. Prior to that I would say it was seen more as a sign from the heavens at a certain time of the year. It happened to be in the Perseids currently at the time of this call but there are other ones at different times of the year.

Essentially you use them much like some feng shui tools to sort of slice through or cut away at old things. So you'd see them more like knives flying through the air essentially or fiery instruments flying through the air cutting through and perhaps even parting veils.

So what I would invite you to do if you can, we have such a beautiful planetary line-up amongst other things that will linger for the week, is to just imagine literally kind of parting that veil and cutting through to a hidden aspect or moving through some unknown part of the self into a new territory.

So it fits into our current theme which is expansion. Everything expands and contracts. We are going to do an upcoming call on that as well. However knowing how to use the in breath and the out breath with the continuous alignment of expansion and growth, personally, planetarily, universally really, because that is what Creation is doing precisely.

So use the meteor showers as a way of seeing "ok that was a solid place and now the streak of light has just parted the way for me." I think you can also have some fun and wish upon a star and do all of those lovely things as well. It should be a very fun and entertaining time.

Thank you and my love to you.
