And here is Djwhal Khul's latest Spirituality Article, information complimentary every Thursday:

(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. We are going to work with a vortex motion, just sort of right above the third eye area, pointing down a little bit, pointing into the third eye. This is kind of a post election energy that requires some integration, sometimes clearing up the third eye is one of the best ways to start to decipher things. We also have a Moon coming into Scorpio. We are going to do a special VIP call called "Heal the Healers" for that, but again watching because communications, really over this whole one week period till our next Spirituality Article which lands on 11-11, will be about careful communications.

Negotiations should be calm and loving. Challenging conversations, yelling at someone, accusing them of something, making demands, that sort of thing, avoid them because I see some Scorpion sting type communications coming about during this time period.

Since it's post election in the USA and that reverberates to the world through commerce, inter-government relations, etc. There are sometimes some sharp words and analysis and such in that regard as well. Again keep the energy whirling around the third eye, you want to actually sort of clear it out so you're not catching all the debris, like it's a dream catcher or something, or catching all the words.

When I look at the post election results, I actually see a relatively good balance of power. Not too much control in any one party hands. The ability of some new elected people having the ability to work with each other, so the scales of Libra sort of speak, when I look at it, when they tilt back and forth fairly nicely.

So there is great potential here for putting things right on a global level. And you can hold that intention perhaps as "We the People", no matter where you live in the world, "We the People" or "We the Lightworkers", "We the Global Consciousness" are asking for fairness, justice, happiness, even distribution of power, etc. Hold your intent. It does matter and it does work.

Alright everyone. Thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
