(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. 2011 titled "The Year of Challenges & Changes", it's also "Opportunity & Transformation".

If you'd like to find out more about it, we do have a transcript available titled "2011 First Quarter" transcript. It's almost a day by day guide of what's happening in January, February, March of 2011 and then a little bit of a peek ahead at the next few months after that.

The planetary alignment that are coming and the other configurations, such as Pluto in Capricorn for many years, etc., really are bringing about change: social changes, financial changes and certainly weather changes. More storms and mishaps and such in the air and in the seas, etc.

So essentially it means, stay flexible, go with the flow, understand there may be glitches in satellite service, or troubles completing projects or missed communications.

Also, be willing to change. Embrace it! In fact look forward to it. Ask yourself "How can I change something about myself that will make a positive difference in the world?". Or "How can I change the way I handle social things, financial things, the gardening or the weather situations?" so that you are kind of volunteering ahead of time rather than waiting until it's a forced issue. So happily embrace change.

It's also an optimal year for those who work with psychic or intuitive powers to have a very successful time. Spiritual guides should also be very successful during this time period.

So again, maybe polish up that shingle, as I like to put it, and hang it up outside and symbolically say "I am ready to serve others."

Alright everyone. Have a very, very happy New Year. It's an excellent time on New Year's Eve to attend social gatherings.

Thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
