(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. Vibrationally speaking, we are entering a time that I would title perhaps "Interdimensional Fusion". So I am going to comment upon that a little bit. Just a note that I do conscious voice channeling, in other words, the channels that I use around the planet are consciously aware, disciplining the mind to step aside. This is not a trance channel, altered state yes, but still conscious. So I encourage you to practice sort of consciously channeling your own Higher Power during this time period.

And to talk a little bit about Interdimensional Fusion, there are several planes of existence, multidimensional of course. Your consciousness resides in all of them simultaneously: past, present and future, or even condensed into the present moment now. So in some ways we could look at it as time and space collapsing into one present moment.

The mind and various aspects of the personality or the ego, usually want to sort of compartmentalize these things. You know like very definitely say that was yesterday and this is today and tomorrow is going to be this way, etc. The mind of course will also go to sequential time: childhood, present age, future age.

But what is happening really on the ethers is a fusion of these dimensions so they're sort of not just overlapping as they were previously, sort of overlapping so that you could dance shamanically into one world and then back into this one.

They're actually blending together in a permanent way and then it changes the consciousness of humanity. It raises the awareness and those who say go with the flow of that become more enlightened, and those who want to stay more compartmentalized and make everything fit in the old way of the brain will have increasing difficulties with it.

So I encourage you to just sort of surrender spiritually to Higher Power and begin to Know Thyself at that level and then it will make sense what is happening.

Alright dear ones. As always, thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
