(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. We're having heavenly influences which I put in more detail in the Quarterly Forecast, but basically this week I want to talk about money and spirituality.

In global financial unfoldings, what we're seeing is a lack of spirituality has been associated with money and we're bringing to this time period then, a number of things.

One is a balancing of the inner feminine and inner masculine. This can be seen in many ways just in terms of the dynamics playing out between people or countries or corporations, stock markets, wars or invasions.

You know it's kind of a masculine attempting to take over something of lesser energy or feminine as it is perceived. 'Invade a country and take the land' that would be the masculine invading feminine. So that's kind of up on the drawing board there.

The other is the spiritual influence coming back into distribution of money, the balance of money, how money is made, how money is saved. And it's becoming a focal point.

Now as lightworkers, spiritual beings seeking enlightenment, one of the things that you can do is bring that consciousness into your awareness in a very responsible way. In other words, perhaps review your budget. Take a look at areas where maybe you actually need to put more resources into that area, like maybe your health or organic groceries, or whatever.

And then look at other areas where maybe you need to not put so much money into. So we're seeing this same pattern on all levels of Creation right now, whole governments, companies, individuals, everywhere on the planet.

In terms of the spiritual energy of money, look at it just the same as all things in Creation work. Like the body, energy comes into it, energy leaves it. Or, you know, you eat some food and the body processes it, keeps the vitamins and minerals, and puts them to use and then releases the toxins. So think of it as inflow and outflow and how to keep it flowing is the key issue.

So you want always a healthy flow of energy and a building up of some reserves. Like some say "save for a rainy day" and whatnot, but you're also going to see during this time period more people getting violent, even almost insane acts of rage, riots, very strange weather patterns, other things disrupting maybe satellite activity or bank activity or security on the Internet.

You want even simple basics like extra water and food in the house, flashlights or candles or whatever you want for provisions for at least 3 to 5 days, just in case something does happen in your area or normal everyday living is interrupted for some reason.

So think in terms of your money and spiritual energy. Like energy, IF I had to go run and get the baby out of the swimming pool, I want the strength to do that. I want to be able to jump up and run into the swimming pool and save the baby. So you want, just keep translating the money to a sense of energy and then keep playing with it.

I have talked in some of the previous teachings about the priorities, particularly so between May and almost through to the end of December: number 1 is money, number 2 is leadership. And that's what we're seeing playing out in the world now.

So within your own self, plenty of reserves, plenty of energy, plenty of resources. It doesn't actually have to be actual cash or coin, it can be in necessities. You know, for example, buy extra dog food, you know that kind of thing.

And then leadership. Be willing to be at peace with your own inner authority. Call leaders in the world to do a better job. That sort of thing.

And also, I'd say in your dream state, or if you're going to just sit down and kind of meditate or even day dream during the daytime, you want to be dreaming a better world. Dreaming a peaceful situation. Dreaming a balanced budget and that sort of thing.

Alright. Thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
