(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. This week's topic is the Blood or/and Full Moon of the Christ.

We have upon us a very important sequence of events really: 2014 and most of 2015, at least the first half of it, we're dealing with very strenuous configurations and heavenly occurrences, and really sort of a galactic wobble, might be an other way to put it.

So, very intense. Physically, the bodies are feeling, oh, maybe like a car going down the road and nuts and bolts are starting to come loose a little bit and things are wobbling and squeaking and don't feel quite as structurally sound. So your physical bodies are doing their best to get through this time period. It is a time period to do extra things for the health. Sleep a little longer. Drink a little more water. Put electrolytes in the body daily. Get a good omega oil that your body likes in your system, keep it in your system. That will help the joints quite a bit, etc. So pay more attention to the physical realm. It will help quite a bit.

Now this is, we're going to do our Tele-Seminar on April 14. The moon is actually full on the 15th and we want to get a little bit more leeway or a little extra room between the actual fullness of the moon.

The Blood Moon simply means that the moon looks red as it is rising. Now we're in a repetition cycle of that occurring four times in about a two year period and this is the first one. They also always occur on a Jewish holiday or fasting holiday. So this will be Passover beginning.

I do recommend that you put out a jar of water, clear glass or green or blue glass, or whatever color glass you want to put it in, and let it charge in the Moon in honor of the Christed Consciousness within Humanity or another way of saying that would be the full potential of Humanity and the Christed Heart Consciousness.

Then you can let it charge in the moonlight, bring it in, chill it or keep it in the cupboard, whatever you want to do, and sip on it from time to time or use it, put it on an alter, use it for ceremony, that will also be helpful.

In other times I think seeing the red moon would mean that blood is going to be spilled. So it is also a sign of war or anger from the Heavens. Keep in mind that the instinctual level within humanity is still your basic operating system, no matter how much you work towards enlightenment, and be sure to cancel any beliefs that arise or keep your firm commitment to peace on earth in mind as you witness these things occurring.

Alright Dear Ones. As always, thank you and my love to you.
