

Expansion of Viewing Point

November 11, 2010

(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

A very warm Tibetan greeting to you. Happy auspicious prosperous recognition of you.

We have, of course, lots of interesting things happening in a very condensed point of time, particularly so through the end of 2012 but really going on for a few years beyond that as well.

So I think that this particular week, what we have is a lot of expansion, a lot of growth, and I would encourage everyone to expand the viewing point.

So if you normally figure you've got a pretty broad view of politics, expand it even further. If you sort of have a very narrow view on any particular thing, just expand it temporarily. It's a time where you can get a glimpse of greater things.

Likewise, in meditation, if you previously had difficulty concentrating or going rather deeply into meditative states, you can expand that quite nicely and go much deeper than before.

When I look at this for global finances, we have some aspects occurring. If you want to follow on Twitter.com/DKupdate I post little hints and tips there.

The vibrations that are coming about will include some Jupiter, which can expand the Wheel of Fortune, money realms or other prosperous endeavors. Also some romantic energy expanding. If you are already in a relationship, use it to go much deeper into the relationship and into your partner as well as into Self.

So expand the viewing point. Very, very important. Those who try to hold narrow views will impede their own progress and oftentimes impede the progress of others as well. So expansion of the viewing point very, very important.

As always, thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
