

"Neptune Retrograde"

June 2, 2011

(Channeling begins)

Djwhal Khul here. Tashi Delek.

Alright. The solar eclipse new moon on June 1 is having a very interesting impact but more importantly I think what we have coming very soon here is Neptune Retrograde. It will go retrograde in the sign of Pisces and will remain there for about six months. That is (let me check the calendar here), that is June 3, Friday.

So the focus as a lightworker is to bring your spiritual path to the forefront. The psychic tendencies will be increasing. Neptune also affects the Third Eye center and makes you more telepathic, intuitive, and so much more even than I can describe.

So when it's moving backwards slowly it may actually bring more awareness to that Third Eye center. We've done many little exercises for development of the Third Eye, as all of my teachings are progressive and kind of work through, step-by-step, and is coordinated with what is going on in the Cosmos.

So I think my favorite one I would go back to is in the shape of a pinecone in the Pineal gland in the Third Eye center. If you are not sure where that is, you can look up the gland centers. It is rather easy and see Pituitary Pineal and Hypothalamus, basically about the center of the head. You want to see a pinecone.

Now I would say, visualize it golden or brass or maybe pearlized, some color that means something to you. Violet or a kind of purple transformational color is also good.

And then really think about your spiritual path, how far you have already come compared to where you were and just maybe pat yourself on the back for that as well.

Alright dear ones. As always, thank you and my love to you,

Djwhal Khul
